

Bridget Zegler

Bridget is an Employment Specialist with TotalLink to Community. She graduated from the University of Illinois at Chicago, where she received her BS in Disabilities and Human Development. She chose her major because she wanted to help change the stigma around people with disabilities and build more inclusive communities.

Bridget has volunteered and worked at Our Place of New Trier for many years, and that experience led to her wanting to grow her natural leadership and creativity skills while helping others to develop their skills and reach their full potential, leading her to Total Link to Community.

She was born and raised in Chicago and loves all things Cubs, friends, and family. She spends her free time taking the train to find the best cup of coffee in the city, going to the Art Institute of Chicago, and riding her motorcycle with her brother.
